

Simplifying Progress

IT Process Consultant Lead to Order (m|f|d)

For the Information Technology department within Sartorius Corporate Administration GmbH we are looking for a IT Process Consultant Lead to Order (m|f|d) at the headquarters in Goettingen or in Berlin. (with flexibility of mobile working) In this position you will be responsible for initiating and coordinating of process improvement in the Lead to Order area.

What you will accomplish together with us

- You Initiate and coordinate process improvements for cross-divisional initiatives in Lead to Order area
- You design new processes with business stakeholders when needed
- You consult for new template definition within Business Process Change Requests (BPCR's) and projects when process changes are needed
- You analyze process deviations within template processes
- You coordinate and execute implementation and requirements engineering related tasks within selected (cross-team or cross-divisional) BPCRs, projects or similar initiatives
- You will act in a strong collaboration with the Process Governance Team regarding the documentation of process based on defined standards
- You collaborate closely with IT Business Partners and Solution Architects for new demands
- You coordinate solution proposal from Inhouse Consultants and respective process impact with business stakeholders

What will convince us

- University degree in Information Technology, Business Administration or Engineering
- Proven experience in effectively managing large-scale projects in digital environment

- End-2-End Understanding of relevant process (Lead to Order)
- Technical background or working knowledge of software development process and tools is an advantage
- Fluent in English, any other language is an advantage
- Ability to think analytically, very good conceptual skills
- Occasional willingness to travel within the scope of projects
- Identification with our corporate values: Sustainability, Openness and Enjoyment

What we offer

Sartorius' ambition is to simplify progress in the bio-pharmaceutical industry to help translate scientific findings into new therapeutics faster and more efficiently. Nearly 10,000 employees at more than 60 sites are working together on achieving our goal: Better health for more people. And together, we have grown strongly over the past years. Enjoy the advantages of working with a global player:

- Opportunity for international career development: a global network offering seminars and training sessions, expert and manager career paths
- Open and highly collaborative culture: mutual support within teams and working as equals, team spirit and international collaboration
- Work-life balance: Working from home at many sites
- Intelligent working environment: working in smart buildings with the latest technology and equipment
- Ambitious goals: Sartorius plans to double its sales revenue approximately every five years and expects to grow its global team to approximately 15,000 people in 2025.

We look forward to receiving your application.

www.sartorius.com/career