

Simplifying Progress

Inhouse Consultant SAP TM/Logistics (m|f|d)

For the Information Technology business unit within Sartorius Corporate Administration GmbH we are looking for an Inhouse Consultant SAP TM/Logistics (m|f|d) at the location Goettingen or Berlin. (There is the possibility to work remotely on a regular basis) With your expertise you will support optimizations of processes in the order-to-cash area and drive innovations. The focus of your work will be the operation, further development and implementation of customized IT solutions in the area of supply chain management in SAP ERP.

What you will accomplish together with us

- You are responsible for the process consulting/support of our inhouse customers in the area of logistics
- You will work closely with the IT business partners and solution architects in the context of requirements analysis
- You accompany national and international projects
- The analysis of business issues as well as the derivation of corresponding solution concepts including their implementation on a global level are a further component of your task
- You will drive the rollout and further development of the global template
- You will be responsible for coordinating and managing external IT partners and service providers
- You will take over the management of projects and sub-projects
- Carrying out tests, documentation and ensuring 2nd level support are also part of your responsibilities

What will convince us

- University degree in business information systems or a comparable qualification

- Good knowledge of business contexts in production
- Several years of professional experience as an IT consultant in the area of SAP TM
- S/4 HANA experience is desirable
- Know-how of adjacent SAP production and logistics modules (e.g. PP, MM, QM, SD) is a plus
- Fluent (business) English skills, German skills are a plus
- Occasional willingness to travel
- Identification with our corporate values: Sustainability, Openness, Enjoyment

What we offer

- Sartorius' ambition is to simplify progress in the bio-pharmaceutical industry to help translate scientific findings into new therapeutics faster and more efficiently. Nearly 10,000 employees at more than 60 sites are working together on achieving our goal: Better health for more people. And together, we have grown strongly over the past years. Enjoy the advantages of working with a global player:
- Opportunity for international career development: a global network offering seminars and training sessions, expert and manager career paths
 - Open and highly collaborative culture: mutual support within teams and working as equals, team spirit and international collaboration
 - Work-life balance: Working from home at many sites
 - Intelligent working environment: working in smart buildings with the latest technology and equipment
 - Ambitious goals: Sartorius plans to double its sales revenue approximately every five years and expects to grow its global team to approximately 15,000 people in 2025.

We look forward to receiving your application.

www.sartorius.com/career